Dear colleagues,

On behalf of the Organizing Committee we cordially invite you to participate in "UBIOCHEM-III: Sustainable production of fuels/energy, materials & chemicals from biomass", the third International Workshop of COST Action CM0903 (<http://ubiochem.org/>), which will take place in Thessaloniki, Greece on 1-3 November 2012, and is organized jointly by COST, the Chemical Process Engineering Research Institute of the Centre for Research & Technology Hellas (CPERI/CERTH) and the Departments of Chemical Engineering and Chemistry of Aristotle University of Thessaloniki (AUTH).

The topics of the workshop, important dates, submission of abstracts, accommodation and other useful information can be found in the attached "First Circular and Call for Papers" while the Workshop's website will be also soon available with more information: <http://www.ubiochem3.certh.gr>.

Please note that the Call for abstracts is currently open and the deadline for submission is June 30, 2012.

In order to prepare your abstract please use the attached "Abstract Template" in word format. The abstracts will be submitted to the Workshop Secretariat via e-mail: ubiochem3@cperi.certh.gr, indicating your preference for Oral or Poster presentation and the Thematic Topic (see attached First Circular and Call for Papers) which you would like your abstract to be assigned.

The authors of all accepted contributions (either oral or poster presentations) will be invited to submit a full manuscript for publication to "Catalysis Today" (Elsevier), following the standard peer-review process of the journal (see attached announcement). A CD of abstracts with all accepted contributions will be also produced.

We would also like to ask you to disseminate this announcement and call for abstracts to your Institutes, colleagues and other groups of scientists that would be interested to participate in the UBIOCHEM-III Workshop.

Looking forward to welcoming you all to UBIOCHEM-III in Thessaloniki,

Kostas Triantafyllidis and Anastasia Zabaniotou
Co-chairs of UBIOCHEM-III Workshop
