

Call for Contributions to EULiST Webinar Series on Professional Faculty Development

Dear Colleagues,

We are excited to announce a Call for Contributions for the EULiST Webinar Series on Professional Faculty Development, targeting at faculties of the EULiST partner universities.

We invite experts to share their knowledge and insights on various topics that are crucial for enhancing educational practice and professional growth.

We are seeking contributions in the following areas:

- Innovative Teaching and Learning Methodologies: Help faculties transform their teaching approaches through innovative methods that deeper student engagement and learning.
- Soft Skills Development: Share your expertise on nurturing vital skills such as communication, leadership, adaptability, and teamwork in academic settings.
- Technologically Integration in Education: Illustrate effective strategies for incorporating technology to enrich classroom experiences and expand learning opportunities.
- Assessment and Evaluation Techniques: Offer your strategies for implementing fair, comprehensive, and efficient evaluation and assessment techniques.
- Interdisciplinary Teaching and Learning: Present approaches to interdisciplinary education that encourage holistic understanding and collaboration across fields.

The webinars should take 60-90 minutes, divided into 45-60 minutes to share your expertise and 20-30 minutes for discussion, and will be offered at the LUH platform Stud.IP (see Working Group "EULiST Webinars on Professional Faculty Development")

Contribution Details

If you are interested in contributing to our webinar please submit your proposal to Alessandra Continenza, University of L'Aquila, (alessandra.continenza@univaq.it) and Francesca Cristaldi, Leibniz University Hannover (Francesca.Cristaldi@zuv.uni-hannover.de)

Your proposal should include:

- A very brief biography highlighting your expertise and experience (no more than one page)
- Title of the webinar
- A summary (up to 300 words) of your proposed session, including key topics and objectives
- Possible date and time of the webinar and, if possible, two or three alternatives
- Any additional resources or tools you would like to share during the webinar

Selection and Recognition

Contributors will be selected based on relevance, innovation, and potential impact on teaching practices. Selected speakers will have the opportunity to reach a wide audience of colleagues, gain recognition for their expertise, and contribute to the professional growth of EULiST fellow faculty members.

Please feel free to forward this email to colleagues and interested parties.
We look forward to receiving your insightful proposals and to the opportunity to learn from your expertise.
For any questions or further information, please contact us.

Warm regards,
Alessandra Continenza and Francesca Cristaldi
Lead and representative Co-Lead of Task Group 3.2 „Innovative Teaching and Learning Methodologies“

Co-funded by the European Union

Webinar Series: Professional Faculty Development | Innovative Teaching and Learning within the EULiST Alliance

25 March 2026

We are delighted to invite you to our new Webinar Series on Professional Faculty Development, organised by the EULiST Task Group 3.2 “Innovative Teaching and Learning”.

This series is designed for educators who wish to enhance their teaching practice, explore innovative methodologies, and engage their students more effectively.

What to Expect:

- Explore Innovative Learning Strategies: Discover new trends and techniques that can make your teaching more dynamic and impactful.
- Enhance Your Teaching Methodologies: Learn how to address diverse learning styles and foster inclusive and supportive learning environments.
- Collaborate and Connect: Network with colleagues from across the EULiST Alliance, exchange experiences, and share best practices.
- Gain Expert Insights: Benefit from the expertise of experienced speakers offering practical advice, tools, and inspiration for your professional growth.

Upcoming session in March

Title: Flipped Classroom: The Methodology You Need to Use Other Methodologies

Speaker: César Cáceres Taladriz, Associate Professor at Rey Juan Carlos University

Date & Time: Wednesday, March 25, 2026, from 1:30 – 3:00 p.m. (CET)

Platform: LUH Stud.IP under the working group "EULiST Webinars on Professional Faculty Development", (direct link to the working group: https://studip.uni-hannover.de/dispatch.php/course/details?sem_id=892ad91de768d2baac6ffb6d9ffe4b9d&aagain=yes)

Access Instructions:

1. Navigate to the Stud.IP platform.
2. Select "EULiST European University" and choose "login with EULiST University".

3. Select your institution from the list and log in with your credentials.
4. Upon logging in, use the search tool at the top right to find the working group "EULiST Webinars on Professional Faculty Development" (please do not copy-paste the title and alternately just search for EULiST Webinars)
5. Navigate to the "General Information" section, click "Go to the course" under the menu on the left, and sign up for the working group.
6. Explore the site to find materials, and access the webinar room via "BigBlueButton".

Participation:

Participation in the webinars is free of charge. Registration is required.

Register here

For any inquiries regarding the webinar series, please do not hesitate to contact Alessandra Continenza (alessandra.continenza@univaq.it) or Francesca Cristaldi (Francesca.cristaldi@zuv.uni-hannover.de).