

Motor Oil Hellas (MOH) is committed to be a leader in the petroleum refining, energy and utilities business thus providing the region that it serves with a reliable and affordable supply of energy. Through its evolution MOH is now considered as one of the major contributors to the domestic economy and a key market player in the region. The extraordinary success that MOH has achieved can be largely attributed to its Personnel. At MOH we strive to develop our people to their highest potential, through continuous education and assignment of challenging projects.

We are searching for an Intern to join the Power Generation Division, for Motor Oil Renewables Energy (MORE), at Maroussi.

Main responsibilities

- Supports the monitor processes for the power generation assets' scheduled maintenance activities
- Participates in asset management operations and supports the assets maintenance requirements
- Takes on ad hoc projects for the operation department

Qualifications / Requirements

- Undergraduate degree student in Engineering (Electrical or Mechanical) or a related discipline
- Proficient use of MS Office tools
- Fluency in English and Greek, both oral and written

Key skills/attributes

- Accountability and problem-solving skills
- Organizational and time management skills
- Ability to work within teams